INDICTED GUNMEN DECIDE TO SQUEAL

Whitey Lewis and Dago Frank Will Confess for Light Sentence

LAWYER NEGOTIATING TERMS

John F. McIntyre, Counsel for Charles Becker, Denounces Trial of the Police Lieutenant by the Newspapers

New York, August 30.—"Whitey" Lewis and 'Dago" Frank Cirofici, the indicted gunmen in the Rosenthal murder case, were reported today to be ready to turn State's evidence on condition that they be let off with light sentences.

The men had received favorably, it was said, the offer of a certain lawyer, who visited them in the Tombs today, to use his influence with District Attorney Whitman to get them off with a light punishment in return for a 'squeal."

The lawyer assured them that this was their one chance to escape the extreme penalty of the murder charge against them, according to the report, and that they could probably get off with five years each. The gunmen then authorized the lawyer to negotiate terms with the District Attorney, it was said, but owing to Mr. Whitman's departure for Manchester, Vermont, to remain over Sunday, no action was taken by the lawyer.

John F. McIntyre, counsel for Lieutenant Charles Becker, indicted as instigator of the murder, issued a statement today declaring that "the trial of Becker in the newspapers has been a disgraceful proceeding."

"Day after day," said Mr. McIntyre, "that which transpires in the grand jury room is expressed broadcast, and done only with one viewpoint—to so bias and prejudice the public mind, that the accused will be denied a fair and impartial trial.

"Every sacred right guaranteed by the constitution has been obliterated and every tradition of criminal jurisprudence violated. Never in the history of the country has there been such a spectacle.

"An indictment was found some weeks ago against Becker, yet if we are told aright by the newspapers, every day since then, some one, whom, it is assumed, will testify for the defendant, is brought to the grand jury room and there, as it is stated in the public prints, grilled by the district attorney.

"It is done to meance or intimidate to an extent that is alarming many that are willing and anxious to tell the truth in behalf of the defense. It is not usual for a district attorney to call witnesses supposed to be for the defense in the guise of a grand jury mandate, obviously to learn what the defendant and his witnesses will say upon a trial to be had.

"It is a most novel way of anticipating a defense and, in my judgment, unlawful."

Mr. McIntyre denied reports that "Gyp The Blood" and "Left Louie" would be produced by the defense as witnesses or that any withnesses for the State had been "spirited away."

Becker's counsel, it is understood, has agreed with District Attorney Whitman to interpose no legal technicalities looking to further delay of his clients' trial, when Becker is arraigned for pleading next Tuesday.

Aside from the postponement of the trial of Capt. Cornelius G. Hayes, on the charge of making a false statement to Commissioner Waldo in connection with disorderly house conditions, interest in police circles centered today on the appointment of Capt. Pos. Faurot.

While Faurot, who has been in charge of the "finger print bureau" of the department, was officially assigned to take charge of the bureau only during the absence of inspector Hughes woh is on sick leave, it was rumored that the appointment would be made permanent.

NOTED OUTLAWS FOUND?

Men Answering Description of Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards Located.

Roanoke, Va., Aug. 30.—Today W. G. Baldwin received a letter from a chief of police in Silverbow county, Montana, who writes that two men, answering the descriptions of Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards, the Hillsville fugitives, have been seen in that vicinity, and that the authorities there are working to land them. The letter further states that a family of Hatfields, from West Virginia, are living near there, and it is supposed that the two men are being cared for by them.

While Mr. Baldwin says he thinks it is possible that the men are the two hunted outlaws, at the same time he fears there is some mistake as to the identification. He says the letter came from the chief, who should be a reliable source.

Mr. Baldwin said today that he and his men have abandoned the search for the men in the Blue Ridge section. Mr. Baldwin was then asked if it was to be inferred that he was of the opinion that the men have left the State, and he replied in the affirmative.

WOOL TRUST HEAD ARRESTED

Library of Congress

W. M. Wood Indicted for Conspiracy In "Planting" of Dynamite at Lawrence, Mass., During Strike

Boston, Aug. 30.—W. M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Co., was placed under arrest today, charged with conspiracy in connection with the alleged "planting" of dynamite in the city of Lawrence during the textile strike there last Winter. It is charged that the dynamite was secreted with the intention of discrediting the strikers by implying that the explosives was to be used by them to destroy property of the manufacturers. Mr. Wood, who is one of the leading manufacturers of woolen goods of the country, was at once released on $5,000 bail.

The indictment against Mr. Wood was one of three returned by the grand jury yesterday in connection with its investigation of the alleged conspiracy. Detectives connected with the office of District Attorney Pelletier today visited the fashionable home in Brooklyne of a prominent Boston business man, who is named in one of the indictments. He was found to be ill and with the understanding that he is to surrender next week, probably Tuesday, service of the indictment was not made. The third person indicted, Dennis J. Collins, of Cambridge, was arrested yesterday and is in jail in default of bail.

District Attorney Pelletier said tonight that he believed he had a strong case in support of the indictments.

TEDDY'S AUTO CAMPAIGN

Bull Moose Is Pleased With His Reception in Vermont

St. Johnsbury, Vt., Aug. 30.—Col. Roosevelt struck up an intimate acquaintance with the rural sections of Northern Vermont today during his automobile campaign through the State. He made five speeches and received such a welcome that he said he thought Vermont was waking up.

Before a lively crowd in the Court House yard here tonight, Col. Roosevelt made a speech which brought him cheer after cheer. He assailed his critics and defended the Progressive party. John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil Company, and Senator Penrose were attacked for their testimony before the Senate investigating committee.

"I thought for a time that they would do some damage to the Progressive party," he said, "but the Lord hath delivered them into my hands. I have them on the hop. I have them in the open. I'll hew them as Israel hewed Ammon, hip and thigh."

Col. Roosevelt explained tonight wny it was that he declared himself in favor of woman suffrage. He said that he had not been influenced to this view by the women who devoted their time to promoting the cause of suffrage, but rather through his acquaintance with women like Miss Jane Adams, of Chicago, whom he had come to know through their interest in sociological work.

In speaking on the trust question Colonel Roosevelt declared that neither the Democrats nor the Republicans had an effective plank and that "the big trusts cordially approve of both platforms."

THE EVERGLADES CASE

Indictment Against C. G. Elliott, Former Drainage Expert, Quashed

Washington, August 30.—Indictments against Charles G. Elliott, former chief drainage engineer of the Department of Agriculture; A. N. Moorehouse, his assistant; F. E. Singleton, chief accountant of the department, and R. P. Teele, formerly an accountant, charging them with having approved and presented false vouchers against the government and for which they were dismissed from the service, were quashed today by request of the government.

The indictments grew out of the Florida Everglades land inquiry and pertained especially to payments for drainage in North Carolina and Oklahoma. The government, in asking that the indictments be quashed, stated that investigation showed there was no intent to defraud the government.

In both majority and minority reports of the committee which investigated the Florida Everglades affair, Engineer Elliott and his associates were declared to have been too severely disciplined by the department in dismissing them for technical violation of the law. Elliott incurred the enmity of certain land agents through the issuance of a circular letter declaring that the government survey of the Everglades had not proceeded far enough to determine the agricultural value of the land in question.

WILSON CHEERED AT COUNTY FAIR

Thousands Hear the Governor Talk on the Uses of School Houses

MAKE THEM SOCIAL CENTERS

Wilson Thinks School House Should Be Used by Neighbors to Meet and Discuss Their Problems.

Seagirt, N. J. August 39.—Neighborhood consultation and a more extensive use of school houses for gatherings where public opinion might be conserved, were the things Governor Wilson advocated today in his speech at the Monmouth country fair at Red Bank, N. J.

After a series of conferences the Governor motored to Red Bank in the early afternoon and was cheered as he entered the fair grounds.

There is one thing in which I have been very much interested in recent years in this country, "he said. "You known I used to be a school master and the interesting thing about the United States is that the United States makes so little use of them. For example, you take our school houses all through the country-side standing here, there and everywhere, in the cities, and they are closed for the most part between the school session of one day and the school session of the next day.

"They are public buildings. They belong to the communities. They furnish ideal places in which to assemble and discuss public affairs. And yet it was reserved for a recent date for scmebody to suggest that the school houses be made social centers; that be used for every kind of legitimate conference; and just as soon as they began to be used for conferences some politicians began to get very uneasy.

"There is a certain class of politician that dreads nothing as much as that the neighborhood should get together and talk things over, because the minute you begin to talk things over you begin to make them the most powerful instrument that exists in any free country. I mean public opinion.

"Now of course, a public man is supposed to come to a county fair for the purpose of getting acquainted. But, there is on use in getting acquainted unless he believes that by getting acquainted you will take his word for things. Now, how do you know he is all right? You can't tell it by looking at him. You want to known a man's table of contents. You want to know what is in him and then when you have found what is in him you want to discuss it with the neighbors, and so long as you don't hold meetings and confer about these things your public men can impose upon you to the top of their bent by merely telling you that certain things are so when you don't know whether they are or not.

"I want not to be trusted blindly but to match my opinions with yours. If I am right, why do you agree with me, if you have not studied the thing and conferred about it and know that I am right? If I am wrong, how are you going to prove it unless you have conferred about it? The whole process of self protection and of liberty consists in these processes of neighborhood consultation."

The Governor had little to say tonight with regard to his conference earlier in the day with Judge Westcott, Representative Hughes and State Senator Gebhardt, all Wilson supporters and candidates in the coming primaries for the Senatorial nomination. The appearance of these three men have today led to the general supposition that one of them might be persuaded to withdraw and a single Wilson candidate make the fight against any anti-Wilson candidate who might appear. Governor Wilson admitted that he had talked the situation over with the three men, but said "he was not bossing the job," and did not know what the result would be. Colonel Robert L. Ewing, National committeeman from Louisiana, and chairman of the press contribution bureau of the campaign committee, called on the Governor tonight. The press contribution bureau, Mr. Ewing said, would be moved to Chicago next week from New York. He brought the Governor a letter which he had received from Governor Colquitt, of Texas, pledging himself as "one of the thousand Texans who would give one hundred dollars to the Wilson campaign."

CLARK ON THE STUMP

Tells People of Maine Country Awaits Their Verdict

Ellsworth, Maine, Aug. 30.—"The whole country is anxiously awaiting the outcome of the election in Maine," declared Speaker Champ Clark tonight. "If the Democrats of Maine win in this September contest they will point the way to an overwhelming Democratic victory in November—a victory so sweeping as to give us a Democratic Senate, House and President."

The Speaker compared conditions today with those of 72 years ago, when Maine elected Governor Kent and the country followed with the overthrow of Martin Van Buren.

MISS PAULINE WAYNE PEEVED

President Taft's Prize Holstein Denies Report That She Was Clandestinely Milked on the White House Lawn.

Washington, August 30.—Pauline Wayne, President Taft's prize cow, the gift of Uncle Ike Stephens, of Wisconsin, was so peeved today over a published report that she had clandestinely been milked on the White House lawn by J. F. Koehler, of Canton, Ohio, that the official milkman declared he just couldn't "do a thing with her."

Moreover Pauline was interrupted all day long as she munched the tender grasses of her private pasture by squads of reporters who came for interviews and, to the rude clicking of camera shutters, demanded to know: "Is it true, Miss Wayne?"

And to each query, modest Pauline returned from her soft, brown eyes a glance bespeaking reproach and indignation; and a whisk of tail, which is to say in bovine, with hauteur: "He did not."

Miss Wayne was magificently gowned for the interview in an exquisite robe of Holstein friesan velvet, having white background, with rosettes and trimmings of jet. She wore a bandeau of white, startling jet ear-rings, spotless stockings of cream-colored silk and was shod with flesh colored pumps.

"I wasn't millked on the White House lawn by a strange man," declared Miss Wayne, tearfully when she finally consented to talk in little moos and grunts between sobs, "because, in the first place, I haven't been on the White House lawn in more than a year, but have been enjoying life on the pasture near the army quartermaster's stables. Moreover, I'm a very able, athletic young lady and quite prepared to protect myself. There is absolutely not a word of truth in it and, if you don't believe me, ask the White House policeman.

The lone minion of the law who solemnly guards the executive offices when President Taft is away allowed that in the first place, he never contradicted a lady; and in the second place if a cow were milked on the White House lawn it must have been some hussy trying to pass herself off on strangers as Pauline.

MRS. H. H. ROGERS PASSES

Widow of Standard Oil Magnate Dies On Dining Car

New York, August 30.—Mrs. Henry H. Rogers, aged 62, widow of the late vice president of the Standard Oil Company, died suddenly in a dining car in the Grand Central station at the conclusion of a journey from Bretton Woods, N. H., to her home here.

Mrs. Rogers was accompanied by several friends on her journey and had been but a short time in the dining car, talking with them, when the end came. Her death was reported to the coroner's office by Dr. McCloud, who was hastily summoned to attend her.

Mrs. Rogers had been a sufferer from heart attacks for the past 10 10 years and last Spring her condition became acute and she went to Bretton Woods in hope of gaining relief. About a week ago her condition became such that Mrs. Rogers' decided that her death was but a matter of days. She wired to New York for her family physician, but he was out of town.

It had been Mrs. Rogers' desire to return to her New York home before her death and as sne was steadily becoming weaker she insisted that the start be made last night.

ENRIQUE MAZA IS ORDERED TO JAIL

Cuban Reporter Who Assaulted American Charge Arrested Again

TOOL IN HANDS OF PLOTTERS

Cuban Minister Declares Assault Was Engineered by Faction That Wants to Get His Country Into Trouble

Havana, Aug. 30.—In consequence of a vigorous protest by Hugh Gibson, Charge d'Affaires of the American legation here, against the release on trivial bail of Enrique Maza, the newspaper reporter who assaulted him last Monday night, Maza was arrested for the third time today by order of the audiancia court and committed to jail to await indictment. Immediately after the re-arrest of Maza the squad of secret service men who had been detailed to watch the American legation, to attend Mr. Gibson wherever he went, was relieved from duty. Mr. Gibson's vigorous insistence that his assailant be prosecuted aroused today a fresh storm of indignation among the newspapers comprising the anti-American section of the press.

The government professes its inability to stop these attacks.

The prosecution of Maza will be begun as soon as Mr. Gibson makes a formal complaint against him. This probably will be done tomorrow.

The Cuban Minister's View.

Washington, Aug. 30.—That Enrique Maza, the reporter who attacked Hugh Gibson, the American Charge, of the legation in Havana, last Tuesday night, was merely a tool in the hands of Cuban plotters who are antagonistic to the United States, and who would like to get the Cuban government into trouble with this country, was the opinion expressed here today by Senor Martin Rivo, the Cuban minister. He was of the belief, he said, that Maza had not attacked Mr. Gibson of his own volition, but that he had been urged on by others who had made him think he had been insulted and that he should seek revenge.

Under no circumstances, no matter what his provocation may have been, said the minister, was Maza justified in the action he took.

That justice would be done in the case was the declaration of Senor Rivo.

The minister has notified his government of the demands of the United States that the assailant be punished. As soon as he had learned of the attack, the minister had "spontaneously sent word to Cuba," he said, that the United States had laws rendering virtually immune from attack the person of foreign representatives here, and that on account of reciprocity, the full vigor of the Cuban law should be applied. In case of a country which does not protect Cuban representatives, said the minister, no further rights are extended to its diplomats than to any other foreigner. He immediately called attention, he said, to this clause in their laws.

The State Department, late today, was informed by the American legation at Havana of the attacks that have been made by a portion of the Cuban press upon Mr. Gibson, and upon the American contractors, the pressing of whose claim for compensation caused a personal assault upon Mr. Gibson, and upon the United States government and people. The officials declared that these articles were "disgraceful," and while they were not prepared at the moment to announce their purpose, it was evident that some strong representations are to be made to the Cuban government against this treatment of an American diplomatic officer.

Some of these Havana publications are regarded as having been written with the deliberate purpose of trying to force a duel upon the American Charge.

The State Department will never permit its representative to be drawn into any such personal quarrels, and it will look to the Cuban government to deal summarily with any individual or newspaper guilty of violating the laws of diplomatic privilege common to all civilized countries.

WILL PROBE S. C. ELECTION

State Committee Meets In Columbia And Decides to Begin Investigation Wednesday of the Charges of Fraud

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 30.—Charges of illegal voting in the Democratic State primary Tuesday in which Cole L. Blease was re-nominated for Governor on the face of the returns, will be rigidly probed by the State Executive Committee of the party. The committee held two sessions here today and adopted a resolution for the investigation.

The committee, after naming presidential electors and discussing the situation, adjourned until next Wednesday, when the probe will begin.

Several telegrams charging fraud in various sections of the State were received by John Garry Evans, the chairman.

Harry D. Calhoun, defeated candidate for Representative, tonight wired Chairman Evans, charging the "use of whiskey and illegal voting," in the Second Congressional district. The total vote in the primary was over 140,000. The vote of the State at the last primary was about 107,000. This increase in the number of ballots is the basis of charges of wholesale "stuffing" of ballot boxes.

A telegram was addressed tonight by Chairman Evans to the county executive committeemen of the State requesting that they report all charges of fraud or illegal voting.

The resolution adopted by the committee calls upon the citizens of the State to help in the investigation. All cases of fraud will be prosecuted. The telegram of Senator Tillman, requesting that the charges be investigated, was read at the meeting.

POST ROAD CONSTRUCTION.

Work Will Begin Right Away in North Carolina—Simmons.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 30.—Mr. E. W. James, engineer with the post roads division of the United States government at Washington, was here today in conference with United States Senator F. M. Simmons, relative to the immediate inauguration of post road construction in North Carolina, under the bill that recently passed Congress, largely through the efforts of Senator Simmons, whereby the government will provide one-third and the localities two-third of the cost for constructing model post roads to a limited extent. The plan now is to build three stretches of model road in the three divisions of the State—coastal, hill and mountain regions—the road to be regular rural mail routes. Twenty or more counties have already made application for such roads, declaring that they have the money in hand ready to apply to the work at once. Senator Simmons says that the government expects to be in position to select the North Carolina roads to be improved within the next 30 or 60 days. He believes that this is just the beginning of a great movement for post road improvement that will sweep the country very soon through judicious Federal aid.

The Senator will be here tomorrow and will then go to his Jones county farm for a few days' rest. Thereafter, he will tender his services to the State Democratic executive committee and get right into the campaign, making straight Democratic speeches and leaving his own candidacy for the Senate with the people on the record he has made.

FELL FROM BALLOON.

Little Boy Caught By Guy Rope and Carried to His Death

Flint, Mich., Aug. 30.—In the presence of hundreds of people, 11-year-old Chester Betts, son of Bert N. Betts, of Flint, was accidentally caught by the guy rope of a balloon today and carried about 2,000 feet in the air before the rope untangled and hurled him to his death. He crashed against the roof of a barn and was still alive when spectators reached him, but he soon expired.

The tragedy occurred at a county fair and when the balloon and aeronaut shot upwards, many people thought the youth dangling at the end of the rope was a dummy. The heoric efforts of the balloonist to rescue the boy soon disclosed the truth to the crowd below. As the big gas bag crept higher and higher the aeronaut in peril of his own safety could be seen working desperately to pull the dangling form to the trapeze.

Finally the rope swirled away from the lad and the tiny form dropped downward like a stone.

At the same time, the National Committee gave out an article calling attention to the publication in the text book of a purported receipt for a $10,000 contribution by the United States Steel Corporation to the Republican campaign fund in 1904.

RECORD FILED IN THE KANSAS CASE

Taft-Roosevelt Electoral Fight is Transferred to Supreme Court

WILL BE DISPOSED OF EARLY

Court Will Hear Case and Render Decision Immediately After Convening October 14th—Each Side's Contention

Washington, Aug. 30.—The fight between the Taft and Roosevelt forces over the Presidential electors from Kansas was today transferred officially from the courts of that State to the Supreme Court of the United States, when the record of the case was filed in the United States Supreme Court here. It will be rushed to the printer so that the court may dispose of the case immediately upon convening October 14th.

The transfer of the record of the litigation was in response to the command of Associated Justices Vandeventer and Pitney, given August 6th, at New York upon the request of the Taft attorneys.

The decision of the Kansas courts was adverse to the Taft followers and the main hope of Taft managers to procure the electoral vote of Kansas lies in the fight to get the Supreme Court of the United States to reverse the State Supreme Court.

As shown by the completed record just filed, the Taft forces claim that they have been fraudulently deprived of rights guaranteed them by the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution. It is charged that the so-called Roosevelt electors procured the signatures of the Taft men to their petitions as candidates for electors by pretending they are Republicans and as such would be bound by the rules, regulations and customs of that party and would support the party's candidates for President and Vice President. As a matter of fact, it is added, these candidates did not intend to be bound by the rules and customs of the Republican party, nor to support the party's candidates for President and Vice President unless Theodore Roosevelt was nominated by the Republican party for President.

The result of this alleged fraud, will be to deprive Taft men of their right to vote for the person selected by them for President, while permitting other citizens to vote for the person selected by them, all notwithstanding the requirement of the 14th Amendment that a State shall give all its citizens equal rights and equal protection of the law.

The record further declares that the Supreme Court of Kansas has held the rights claimed are political instead of judicial questions such as the courts may decide.

In answer to this, it is set up that if the Australian ballot law and the primary election law of Kansas are to be so interpreted these laws are unconstitutional.

It is understood that a motion will be made when the court convenes October 14th to advance the case for immediate hearing and that the motion will be granted, so that a decision may be announced before election day.

KEEPING RAILWAY OPEN.

Admiral Southerland in Supreme Command of Nigaraguan Situation

Washigton, August 29.—Rear Admiral W. H. F. Southeralnd, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, is now in supreme command of the situation at Nicaragura. Admiral Southerland has deployed the forces along the railway between Corinto and Managua, and he reported to the Navy Department that he intends to keep railway communication open between the capital and the seaport. The general tone of his two telegrams to the Navy Department, received late today and timed at Corinto at 5:00 P. M. yesterday and 9 o'clock this morning respectively, is that the situation is less serious. He said a force was stationed at Lenorn and another at intermediate points along the railway. Admiral Southerland has shifted his flag to the gunboat Annapolis.

If, upon the return of the California, he deems it necessary, Admiral Southerland says in his first dispatch that he will send the hundred marines immediately to Magenia. He ordered the Denver to San Juan to keep open wirless communication, as all of the land lines are interrupted. When the California returns with the reinforcements of 750 marines all will probably be safe. The last dispatch was very brief and marely stated that the railway and telegraphic communication was still cut off because of injury to tracks and poles. Business interests of the city of Mobile have joined with those of New Orleans in commending the State Department for its efforts to protect American interests in Latin America. The Mobile view was sent out in a telegram from the Chamber of Commerce. It reads as follows:

"Merchants at Mobile who are interested in the extension of American trade in Latin American countries cordially endorse your policy of having and keeping sufficient forces in Nicarauga to protect American life and property there."

The value of canned pineapples shipped from Hawaii during the fiscal year of 1911 amounted to $2,000,000.

REBEL FALLS DOWN

Rafael Campa Fails to Attack Rich Mining Camp

Douglas, Ariz., August 30.—Awed by the determined attitude of the defenders at El Tigre, Rafael Campa, the rebel leader operating in Sonora, southeast of this city, has not as yet made good his threat to attack the rich mining camp. Instead, he has been moving his force farther north on the Bavispo river, after informing couriers that he had given up his intention of taking El Tigre. It was reported he would go to the Mormon colony of Morelos and Oaxaca.

All of the women and children of the Mormon colonies have left and are expected to arrive in Douglas late tonight or tomorrow. There are about 450 refugees in the party and they are escorted by an armed guard.

Five troops of the Fourth cavalry, stationed at Fort Huschuca, have been ordered to Nogales, Ariz.

This places all 12 troops of the Fourth cavalry in active service along the border.

Rebels under Escobosa and Alatorre are reported to have surrounded Campa south of Nacozari. These are the same rebels that have been looting the property of the Transvaal Mining Company several days. The property is owned by Cincinnati capitalists.

CAUGHT BY A SHARK.

Edward Coffee Disappears, While Swimming at Tybee.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 30. — While swimming at Tybee Island today, Edward Coffee, 12-year-old son of Edward J. Coffee, an ex-Savannah patrolman, mysteriously disappeared and up to this afternoon his body had not been found. It is feared he was captured by a shark. Young Coffee and several other boys, about 30 in number, have been camping at Tybee. Coffee was an excellent swimmer. While in bathing he proposed that the entire party go out into deeper water. While leading the way, he suddenly disappeared beneath the water.

The other lads became frightened and hurried ashore.

This is the fourth death at Tybee this season. The affair recalls the disappearance of a lad three years ago near the spot where Coffee went down. Later his dismembered body was found on the beach.

DELGADO AGAINST COAST LINE

Strong Local Teams Will Line Up This Afternoon—Great Rivalry Between Teams—The Struggle of Season

The baseball appetite in Wilmington will be considerably sharpened for the games here next week by the last of a series of games between Delgado and the Atlantic Coast Line Athletics, which will be called at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at League Park and which promises to be hotly contested from start to finish.

The Spinners have considerably strengthened their line-up from the game last Saturday and the Coast Line has not been asleep to its interests. The play is for gate receipts and a side forfeit and both teams will play for all that there is in them. There has been intense rivalry between these organizations for some weeks and this will break forth this afternoon in all its intensity. A fifteen-minute car schedule has been promised and the admission will be only 25 cents to the stands or any part of the grounds. As an extra concession the management of both the teams has agreed to admit ladies free and many of the fair femininity is expected.

Holt and Watson will be at either end of the firing line for the Delgado team and the A. C. L. will present its strongest artists in this line. These teams have done much to provide Wilmington with baseball this Summer and they deserve a large patronage for this afternoon's game. If the patronage seems to warrant it, the Delgado team hopes to arrange a second game with Fort Caswell to be played here on Monday, Labor Day.

ORIGIN OF GEYSERS.

Interesting Publication Just Issued by Department of Interior.

Geysers are found in only three places in the world, according to a publication entitled "Geysers" just issued by the Department of the Interior. These three regions are Iceland, where geysers were first discovered, New Zealand, and the Yellowstone National Park, in which these natural steam engines are more numerous and of greater beauty than in the two other areas mentioned. In the Yellowstone the geysers are found in detached geyse basins, or fire holes, as they were called by the first explorers, and the groups possess individual peculiarities which give character and interest to each locality. The most noted of these 'basins" is, however, that known as the Upper Geyser Basin of the Firehole River, one of the headwaters of the great Missouri, The whole floor of the valley is fairly riddled with springs of boiling water, whose exquisite beauty is indescribable. Light clouds of fleecy vapor curl upward from waters of the purest azure or the clearest of emerald, and, encircling rims of white marble-like silica, form fit setting for such great gems. A large part of the valley floor is covered with the white deposit of silica known as siliceous sinter, deposited by the overflowing hot waters, The weird whiteness of these areas, the gaunt white, trunks of pine trees killed by the hot waters, the myriad pools of steaming crystal, and the white clouds floating off from the chimney-like geyser ocnes, form a scene never to be forgotten by those fortunate enough to behold it.

The intermittent spouting of geysers was long a riddle to scientific men. The theory, which bears the name of the illustrious chemist, Bunsen, is now generally accepted. This theory is based on the well-known fact that the boiling point of water rises with the pressure, and is therefore higher at the bottom of a tube of water than at the surface. In a long and narrow or an irregular tube ebullition in the lower part is only possible at a much higher temperature than at the top, owing to the weight of water column above it. If by the continued heating the lower layer of water attains the temperature at which it can boil, steam is formed, whose expansive force lifts the superincumbent column of water, causing a slight overflow at the top, which shortens the column, so that steam is formed at a higher point and a further lifting and relief of pressure ensues, followed by an eruption.

This publication which may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office Washington, D. C., for 10 cents, contains protograghs of the principal geysers and diagrams illustrating the forces that cause them. It is written in nontechnical language so that it may be readily understood by the reader without scientific training.

..Theatrical..

Dear to the hearts of millions the country over, nothing ever produced with such wonderful success. The great play of them all comes to the Academy of Music Tuesday September 3rd.

Year after year audiences so large as to test the capacity of the largest theatres throughout the country have greeted Johua Whitcomb, Cy. Prime, Seth Perkins, Eb. Gonzey, Aunt Matilda, Rickety Ann, Happy Jack, and all the other characters in Denman Thompson's famous drama of New England life, "The Old Homestead," and have laughed and wept by turns over the quaint, homely bits of comedy and pathos which constitute its chief charm. Moreover, the atmosphere of "The Old Homestead," at once so peaceful and so bracing, together with the genuine touch of nature, which makes the whole world kin, serves to enhance its every feature and to bring the audience into the closest relations with both the player, and the production "The Old Homestead" undoubtedly owes something of its continuous and ever increasing popularity to the fact that it affords one of the strongest and most potent object lessons possible in honesty; sobrity and charity. The sturdy integrity of Uncle Joshua Whitcomb, added to his other shining characteristics of both head and heart; Aunt Matilda's sweet, motherly solicitude for the absent son; the senile petulance and querulousness of Cy. Prime and Seth Perkins, these and others character sketches from life are the kind that appeal most forcibly to an audience and stir the sensibilities and risibilities to the highest pitch. This is the twenty-seventn season of "The Old Homestead." The cast is practicly the same as last season. In fact, the management of the company believes in keeping the same company that made the early successes of "The Old Homestead" as intact as possible. Some of the company have been in the cast for many years. Mr. Frank Thompson, son of Mr. Denman Thompson, for years has had the management and direction of the grand old play. His attention and detail accounts in no small way for the merited success of this beautiful idyl of New England.

Seats will be on sale Monday at Plummer's. The scale will run only to $1.00.

Big Saturday at The Grand.

As usual the week-end will find the strongest bill of the week at The Grand Theatre in compliment to the throngs who always patronize the place on the half holiday. The management always provides something just a little bit better for the Saturday afternoons and today will be no exception.

"An Unexpected Fortune" is a Selig and a comedy drama depicting the experiences of three "busted" but determined American soliders of fortune. Col. Edward J. Hazlett is an old derelict in the journalistic field and Bruce Henderson and Westely Bowers are two young newspaper men. These with Andy Mullett, a tramp printer from the dramatis personae of a most interesting story, The office of the "Franklin Gazette" is the scenario and unfortunately it falls into the hands of the sheriff. There is a girl in the case and all told the story will be found to be one of the best presented during the week.

Another is a sweet story of "Wanted—A Grandmother." She grows younger instead of older and marries a handsome young widower. The film is by the Vitagraph people and it is well worth seeing. These two with a third picture, an always delightfully cool and pleasant house and other natural attractions of the place should ensure great audiences at every preformance today and tonight. The price is never more nor less than five cents or half a dime.

Great Things at The Bijou

Great things has the popular Bijou, the joy spot for comfort, as well as for entertainment, on tap today, and, of course, giant crowds will be on hand to revel in the merriment and other delightfulness. It is going to be a rousing week-end bill; one of the very greatest that has ever transpired. Today's bill is also of special importance as the noted moving picture actor, Mr. Maurice Costello, will appear in one of the feature films, the Vitagraph's very latest and most novel, "Flirt or Heroine?" In this film will appear a splendid cast, Miss Florence Turner, the well-known actress, portraying the role of "Joan Harley." Mr. Costello will appear as "Kenneth Leslie, a surgeon." It is a great film, showing that when duty calls love responds, and in the face of death and war in India a girl, who appears to be a flirt at home, proves herself a heroine.

Another great star photoplay is on for today in "Kentucky Girl." It is a tale of the turf, and it is something out of the ordinary. It tells a highly interesting story, with a stirring race track climax, that will not only exhilcite, but will prove something decided-out of the ordinary. When "Kentucky Girl" races home a winner the spectacle is a thrilling one.

The other films on today will contribute largely to the glory of the occasion and afford the greatest week-end bill in the history of the attractive, cool Bijou.

CAUSE OF IMMORTALITY

Bob Glenn Pleads for Reform In Women's Dress

Pittsburg, August 30.—Former Gov. R. B. Glenn, of North Carolina, addressing 2,000 teachers of the Allegheny County Teachers' Institute last night, made a plea to them to use their influence in securing reform in the manner of dressing by the women of the country.

He attributes the spread of impurity and immortality to the present style of low-necked and short-skirt dresses.

"My dear ladies," he said, "if you want to wear pants, wear them. Japanese women wear them and look pretty good in them. But if you insist upon wearing them, wear pants with both legs in them and not with only one leg and then try and stick your feet through them as some of you women are now trying to do."

Cassell Hesse, Nassau, August 30.—The German Emperor and Empress left Wilhemshoe Castle today for Berlin. Both their majesties appeared to be in excellent spirits. They were accompanied by their daughters.

A. D. RICH COMPANY MAKES STATEMENT

Says Verbal Contract Expires on First of September—Controversy is Compromised—Must Vacate by Wednesday Night, Sept, 4th.

The A. D. Rich Co., at No. 112 North Front street, writes the following self-explanatory letter, and we herewith reproduce same with our comments in order to show the public that we do not want to take advantage of any one. The letter follows:

August 30, 1912.

The Kimball Piano Company, Wilmington, N. C.

Gentlemen:—This is to notify you that you will have to vacate the space in our store, 110 and 112 North Front street, not later than Wednesday, September 4th.

This space was rented by you until the first, and as our new Fall goods are coming in, we are compelled to have the space by the above specified time.

Yours respectfully,
A. D. RICH COMPANY.
Per A. D. Rich, Prop.

The above is the result of a very hot controversy between Mr. A. D. Rich, the head of the big furniture establishment on Front street, and Mr. A. B. Cheek, who is one of our managers.

We contend that our time does not expire until the 9th of the month as it was our verbal understanding. He contends that it expires on the 1st of September, and has just demanded that we give him his room on the first which is a matter impossible to do. Now, with all due respect to Mr. Rich, we can't help but feel that he is just a little too hard on us, we don't lose sight of the fact though that there is two sides to a question. Now, to sum the whole proposition up, he says we must move out by Wednesday and to be plain with you we are going to do it and do it before if possible. We are going to sell every piano at some kind of a price, really it makes very little difference whether we get our price or not as we have had the biggest kind of advertisement and the exhibit would not be a success unless we left every piano here. We have left them in twenty-six towns in the State where we have exhibited and we are going to leave them here.

Now, beginning today, we are going to make a piano proposition that will enable the head of any family to secure a piano, no matter how little their income. We have four pianos left out of seventeen to sell, and we have three that we have been holding for parties who have made deposits that we will be forced to sell unless they are called for at once. No fair offer will be refused for any piano in the lot, so now the matter is very plain; so its up to you to provide your home with one of these beautiful sample pianos, a piano that will be a joy in your home for a lifetime. Now, about the terms. We are not particular about that. Just come on, and come quick, and lets have a heart-to-heart talk about this matter. You know you have promised your family a piano, and take a tip from us, you will never have the oppportunity to buy a piano so cheap again. Just take the shortest path to No. 112 North Front street and you will never regret it. Open every day and night until 9 o'clock.

ROBESON COUNTY VETERANS

Great Gathering Of Old Soldiers at Maxton This Week—Address And Other Interesting Features

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Maxton, N. C., Aug. 30.—This was a red letter day for the town and people of Maxton—a day dedicated and set apart, as it were, to the entertainment of the Confederate veterans of Robeson county and other visiting veterans. The town and community bestirred itself in an unusual way to prepare a fitting welcome and celebration for the men who wore the gray, and its purpose was accomplished in a highly creditable and satisfactory manner.

A mass meeting of the citizens was held in the Commercial Club room some days ago and committees were appointed and arrangements perfected to put through a celebration worthy of those in whose honor it was to be given. These committees immediately set to work and aroused an interest and enthusiasm for the occasion which has made it one long to be remembered. The business men of the town and community contributed liberally toward the expense of the celebration to the end that nothing should be omitted which would enhance the pleasure and comfort of the visitors.

At 10 o'clock A. M. the veterans and assembled multitude lined up and the lengthy procession started from the corner of Patterson and Saunders streets and marched down Main street to Central street and then on to the picnic grounds in the rear of Carolina College, where the formal exercises of the day were held. In front of the procession, rode the Chief Marshall of the day, Mr. S. H. McKinnon, and his assistants all on horseback, about fifty in number, with the handsome riders and beautiful horses gayly bedecked with colors and prancing to the martial music of the band marching just in their rear, one could almost supply the military accouterement in thought and imagine a real troop of cavalry on the march. Following the band, came an artistically decorated automobile carrying the principal speaker of the occasion, Attorney General Bickett, of Raleigh; Mr. G. B. Patterson, who was to introduce him, and Mr. A. J. McKinnon and his son, in whose home Mr. Bickett was entertained while here. The well-known veteran, Mr. T. A. McBryde, of Hoke county, also rode in this car. In the next machine, which was decorated with Confederate flags, rode the second speaker, Major Frank Robbins, of Lexington, with Mr. S. B. McLean, who was to introduce him, Dr. A. B. Croom, and Mr. D. P. McEachern, of Red Springs, and Mr. Geo. C. Fisher, of this place, the last two being heroes of the Lost Cause. Next came a mammoth float covered with white and filled with beautiful young ladies, riding high up on elevated seats, making the most attractive feature of the parade and pronounced by one and all as one of the most striking pictures of the kind they had ever witnessed. Next came double line of marching veterans wearing their badges, many of them in their gray uniforms of long ago. For some of them, who were unable to march in the parade, a platform was constructed on a wagon and on the platform was a white tent and a small tree, with camp stools and camp equipment, the picture presented being of soldiers in bivouac. After the last of the veterans, vehicles, automobiles, horsemen and pedestrians, traveling all sorts of ways and making up a line nearly a mile long, completed the parade.

Arriving at the beautiful college grounds, ample preparations had been made for seating the crowd under the protecting shade of the green trees and here and there were picturesque canopies colored with the red, white and blue and at these light refreshments were served to the veterans. In the center of the grounds a large elevated speaker's stand had been erected and a belt of red, white and blue bunting encircled it and was surrounded by Confederate flags. About twenty-five young ladies in white, the commandants of the three camps participating in the reunion, Dr. J. D. Croom, Sr., master of ceremonies, and the speakers and guests of honor occupied the speaker's stand. Rev. Mr. Clarkson opened the exercises with prayer and then followed several patriotic songs by the "White Squadron," the young ladies, and then Mr. McKay McKinnon, the mayor of the town, delivered the address of welcome in a very happy vein and his humor was appreciated by the audience. Mr. J. A. McAllister, of Lumberton, commandant of Camp Willis H. Pope, responded to the address of welcome in a very appreciative way and drew forth vociferous applause. Then Miss Bessie McLean read feelingly a beautiful tribute to the old veterans, which elicited great applause. Mr. G. B. Patterson then introduced Mr. Bickett and the latter's speech was truly a gem. He captivated the audience with his eloquence and when he concluded loud applause and cheers went up and many of those on the stand pressed forward to grasp his hand. "My Old Kentucky Home" was then sung and Mr. S. B. McLean introduced Major Frank Robbins, of Lexington, a handsome old gentleman, of fine bearing, whose speech was very thrilling and effective. He talked especially to the veterans and as he recounted scenes and incidents of the war, tears could be seen gathering in the eyes of some of them. He closed by saying that he had always loved them as brothers and would continue to do so and hoped finally to meet all of them at the final camping ground beyond the stars. Dr. Croom then called on Gen. Metts, of Wilmington, for a "cute" little song which he said he had heard General Metts sing before and when this rebel tune was given by the general, it called forth much laughter and merriment in the audience.

At the conclusion of the exercises, all veterans marched to the long tables at the lower end of the grounds and were ushered inside of the ropes and were there feasted to their capacity, being waited on by the ladies and every attention shown them. All others besides the veterans and those attending them gathered around the tables just outside of the ropes and were fed till they could hold no more. The tables were loaded with all manner of good things to eat and one especial treat was a barbecued pig, mutton and beef which had been carefully prepared by a chef from Wilmington, who arrived two days ago, made all preparations and cooked the barbecue all of the previous night and had it done to a turn. Of this bountiful dinner, there was much left and to spare, although the crowd that was fed was a very large one.

The part of the town's decorations which probably attracted the most attention was a large "welcome arch" which spanned the public square and Main street of the town, bearing the legend, "Welcome Confederate Veterans," and the whole procession passed under this arch just before turning from Main street up Central street.

Special trains were run over the Seaboard from both east and west on accommodating schedules and brought large crowds.

The people of the town and vicinity seem to have taken great pleasure in entertaining the veterans and that they made an undoubted success is the opinion of all.

PROGRESS IN NORTHAMPTON

Good Roads Building—Sand-Clay Construction Favored

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rich Square, N. C., Aug. 30.—The good roads fever has at last struck Northampton and the work of building permanent good roads has actually begun.

During the past six years one hundred thousand dollars have been spent on the roads of this county doing patchwork with the roads but little better for the outlay, but now the work of building the best type of sand-clay roads has begun at Rich Square and will doubtless extend to all the important roads of the county. The work here is being watched with keen interest by other sections of Northampton, and Hertford and Bertie, as well.

The Legislature of 1911 authorized Rich Square township to issue road bonds to the amount of $30,000. This with an annual road tax in the township of $30,000 is thought to be sufficient to give sand-clay roads a fair test. Modern road equipment, including a traction engine, has been bought and is now in use. Work on one of the most traveled roads, connecting the towns of Woodland, Rich Square and Roxobel, is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and is under the direction of a highway engineer who was recommended to our board by Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist and leader of the good roads movement in the State.

The sand-clay road now being built from Rich Square is the first effort to build a road of this kind according to approved methods between the Roanoke and Chowan rivers. We have sand and clay a plenty and if good roads can be made with these materials, and we believe they can, Northampton is going to take the front rank in this, as she has in raising cotton and peanuts, hog and hominy.

GUILFORD REPUBLICANS.

Roosevelt Men in Saddle and Riding Hard—Dixie Company.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, August 30.—The Guilford county Republican convention, held here yesterday afternoon for the purpose of selecting delegates to the State convention at Charlotte and the Fifth district convention in Greensboro next month, was a harmonious affair. In fact it was a bit tame. There was no scrapping. The Roosevelt sentiment dominated the gathering, 26 of the 28 delegates to the State convention being Roosevelt men, it is said, Chairman Hiram Worth, a Roosevelt supporter, presided over the meeting and after the transaction of business he resigned as chairman of the executive committee and M. C. Shaw was elected to succeed him. The Republicans will after put out a full county and legislative ticket in Guilford. During the convention J. M. Hedgecock, of High Point, and Cicero Holton, made enthusiastic speeches predicting Republican success in county, district, State and Nation. The only contest before the convention was from High Point, the credential committee seating the Roosevelt delegates.

The Dixies Fire Insurance company yesterday closed contract with the Merchants and Manufacturer club whereby the club takes a ten years lease on a part of the Dixie building for a club home. This means that the M. & M. club will not only have a handsome home during the next ten years but that the Dixie company will add two more stories to its present five-story building on Elm street. The work of adding two additional stories will begin at once and the club will be in its new home by the first of the year if present plans do not miscarry.

RICHMOND COUNTY COTTON

Two Bales Sold at Rockingham—The Crop Outlook

Rockingham, N. C., Aug. 29.—Two bales of cotton were marketed here today, being the first of the new crop. The bales which weighed 474 and 485 pounds, were grown by T. C. Leak, Jr., and were sold to W. T. Covington & Co., for 11 cents.

Cotton generally in this county is about ten days late but the crop outlook is very promising for a large yield.

The man who will continually talk about his war record and state that he was always where the bullets were thickest is generally the man who stuck close to the ammunition wagon.

Mr. Taft is still waiting, though with little expectancy, Mr. Roosevelt's confession of bad faith.—Providence Journal.

Flying Men Fall

victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles just like other people, with like results in loss of appetite, backache, nervousness, headache, and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that as T. D. Peebles, Henry, Tenn., proved. "Six bottles of Electric Bitters," he writes "did more to give me new strength and good appetite than all other stomach remedies I used." So they help everybody. It's folly to suffer when this great remedy will help you from the first dose. Try it. Only 50 cents at R. R. Bellamy.

DAY'S DOINGS IN RALEIGH

Change in Rate on Peas and Elevator Weights—Wake Water Company Suit—Several Charters Issued—Other News Notes.

(Speical Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C. August 30.—Three orders made today make considerable modifications in freight rates in North Carolina that will operate to the considerable advantage of shippers. A cicular changes Soja or Velvet beans from Class B. to Class D, the same as Cow peas. Another circular places elevator weight of iron in Class "A" instead of Third class, and another provides that 3,100 pounds shall constitute 3,000 in rough sawed pine in cases where estimates are necessary instead of actual measurements.

A charter was issued today for The Citizen's Savings Bank and Trust Co., of Newbern, capital $50,000 authorized and $10,000 subscribed by William Dunn, Clyde Eby, T. A. Uzzel and others for general banking and trust business.

Another charter is for The Williamston Cooperage Co., of Williamston, Martin county, capital $25,000 authorized and $15,000 subscribed by J. Davis Reed, W. C. Manning, Harry W. Stubbs and others.

The order of Judge H. W. Whedbee appointing W. Q. Vass, prominent banker of this city, receiver of The Wake Water Co., in the suit of Powell & Powell and others against the water company, was served on the officers of the company today and Mr. Vass is assuming direction of the affairs of the company pending the final hearing of the case in Smithfield, September 17th. In the meantime the suit of the city through City Attorney W. H. Peace, for the forfeiture of the franchise by the Wake Water Co., is being pushed and is set for hearing at the September term of the court.

In the meantime those especially anxious for the immediate extension and improvement of the water supply to relieve the exceptionally bad conditions that have prevailed for the past two weeks, are moving in the direction of having receiver's cetrificates issued in order that there may be funds available for something like a half million dollars extension of the system. These receiver's certificates would take precedence over all other obligations of the company and would provide funds which the directors of the company claim that they have made vain efforts during months past to raise.

Saturday, August 31, 1912.

Elect Woodrow Wilson for President and kill a Bull Moose and a Jonah with the same stone.

Two absurd propositions: Defiant amendment of the Monroe doctrine. One battleship to carry it out.

Chewing the rag on the stump cannot be made to pass muster as a joint debate a la South Carloina.

Subscribe to the Wilson campaign fund. Do it now. The Star will enter your name on the list of contributors to the people's cause.

"There is nogthing in polities" shouts a reform orator. He must be mistaken since whole families go into politics or what there is in it.

Nobody has been called a liar in the North Carolina campaign but that doesn't keep them from being known without sending for William J. Burns.

Says the Asheville Citizen: "There's no use talking." At the same time people go right on getting something from us with their spiel and song and dance.

The dapper eight-page Salisbury Post ought to look good to the Salisbury folks. It not only has the looks but Editor J. F. Hurly is puting the proper ring in it.

Bill Flynn, the Bull Moose boss in Pennsylvania, has adopted the latter day custom of dodging the issue by calling other men liars. Giving the lie is not urnishing a proper deense.

The money required to finance a gold mine in Alaska will earn a greater dividend if invested in farming in eastern North Carolina. Farmers are proving that every season.

Every North Carolinan ought to take a dollar's worth of stock in the effort of Woodrow Wilson to restore the government to the people. The Star will issue you a share for a dollar and send it to Democratic Headquarters.

Says the New York Tribune: "Suffragists pinned a 'votes for women' badge on Governor Dix, who wore it and said nothing." Probably "a still tongue shows a wise head," or words to that effect.

An Atlanta woman yelled and frightened a burglar who was going through her husband's pockets. Probably she had overlooked a quarter when she went through the old man's pockets first.

Next time Congress meets the Democrats will be careful about taking Taft's side agfiainst his party. Taft is a Jonah and by standing in with him Democrats take all the chances of innocent bystanders.

For some time a St. Louis artist and his wife claimed that they were reincarnated lovers of prehistoric Egypt. They are now airing their trouble in the divorce court, a circumstance showing that reincarnated people are like ordinary mortals.

Democrats throughout the nation are quoting Rosevelt on Taft to hurt him and are using Taft's words about the Third Termer to floor him. That is good politics for the Democrats. In North Carolina Rspublicans and Bull Moosers are storing up as campaign thunder every thing one prominent Democrat says against another. When the leaders reprodudiate each other, it weakens a party's appeal for approval. When Democrats ask Democrats to requdiate each other, Republican whangdoodles can go around and appear plausible in asking that the whole bunch be repudiated on their own testimony.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS.

At the request of and under authority of Robert Ewing chairman of the Press Contributions Bureau of the Democratic National Committee, Fifth Avenue Building, New York, the Star will be glad to receive, acknowledge and forward through the proper channels any and all contributions to the Woodrow Wilson Campaign Fund. These contributions will be either forwarded direct or through Hon. Josephus Daniels, Raleigh, N. C., National Committeeman from North Carolina and acknowledged also through the Raleigh News and Observer, through which agency Mr. H. C. McQueen, of New Hanover, has already started the contributions from this county with a donation of $10. Other contributions will be acknowledged from day to day in these columns and forwarded promtly without cost to the donor.

"No wonder that public men and political parties often put themselves under monetary obligations to wealthy men and "the interests." The public at large knows that the battle is for their own good, and yet often hesitatesto lend any monetary assistance."

"Having nominated Governor Wilson, shall we leave him embarrassed for necessary campaign funds? And if people at large won't subscribe to pay his campaign expenses (a contest made for them) shall they go unpaid? Or if paid, shall they be paid by rich men, who would at least think they had a claim on the president if he were elected?

"The large use of money by a few rich men or by corporations is the curse of our politics."

STEALING PARTY TRAD MARKS.

The fellow who would infringe on another's patent and profit at the expense of another man's genius and invention, would be in about the same moral class with a man who would steal a trademark and market counterfeit goods of a brand which another has advertised and for which the trademark owner has built up a demand by the use of both his brains and his money. The man who would swipe a patent or a trade mark would be in about the same class as a highwayman who holds up others and appropriates for himself what is theirs.

Honesty and virtue are commendable among men, and all political parties should take heart that the public applauds whatever they do to improve their morals and better their character. "If thou hath not a virtue assume one," is a wise injunction from Shakespeare, and so the whole country has been looking approvingly on the pretensions of the old parties to assume virtue and avoid all appearance of crookedness. Of course, the Bull Moose party has come to life in the midst of this revival of morality and it claims that it was born with a halo about its head. It does not have to assume a virtue because it claims that it is the advance guard which is to fight the battle of Megidda in the field of Armagedden. To "fight the battle of the Lord" is would quite naturally be expected to be a clean and virtuous party, free of deception, trickery, demagogy and fraud, but it had hardly come forth from its swaddling clothes till it began to show signs of swiping something from the G. O. P.

It is hardly necessary to say that "swiping" is North Carolina for stealing, and stealing is dishonest and disreputable. It has been a terrible struggle with the Bull Moose organization to resist stealing the good name and trademark and livery of the G. O. P. and it is all the more pitiful and heinous owing to what has happened to the G. O. P. It would be even more scandalous, shocking and reprehensible for the Pure-In-Heart Party to take to stealing at the first sight of a peanut stand. Therefore, we would write, don't steal, but swat. It is right and proper to swat the G O. P. and put it on the mat with all four of its tub feet up in the air, but to rob it while it is down would betray the same kind of progressiveness and virtue as that illustrated by a hyena in sneaking upon the carcass of a dead lion.

The Bull Moose party has shown all sorts of signs of snatching the jackpot from the G O. P., but we are here to say, do not whinny aloud about the square deal but give the G O. P. "cards and spades" without stealing out the ace in the shuffle. Practice virtue after preaching it. Right on the eve of dressing to the right for the "battle of the Lord" don't "steal the coppers from a dead nigger's eye." Bring forth fruit meet for repentance for having belonged to the Republican party, but don't steal its livery to serve the rip-roaring Bull Moose. It would be as onery as stealing fodder from a bone-spavined horse or purloining the poultice donated to a sorebacked mule by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

We don't know how else to emphasize our sense of the ludicrous over a situation in which the Bull Moosers have got the G. O. P. organization in sore distress in Kansas, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, South Dakota, Nebraska, California and North Carloina. In those States the Bull Moosemen held over in control of the Republican organizations, and in all, except North Carolina, they have held on and seem to be determined to use the G. O. P's. good name, trademark and livery for the benefit of an individual who has given the countersign of the square deal and claims to represent Gabriel in the fight to put the Moloch of iniquity out of business.

It happens that in North Carolina Colonel Johnny Morehead outflanked the Holy Joe crowd and will steal away to Charlotte on Wednesday to hold a State convention with the nucleus of the old guard. There are rumors that the impious Bull Moosers will mobilize at Greensboro and move thence and from other points of attacks to overwhelm State Chairman Morehead and the faithful who are nobly standing by Taft We hope it is a lie, for it would be a shame for the followers of the immaculate Ego to be caught reiding the G. O. P. deadhouse to disrobe the corpse.

Real square men would hardly do that, after even the Pennsylvania crowd has become conscience stricken and will restore the stolen Republican organization to Taft. The New York Tribune, standpatter and Taftite, rejoices that through the pending negotiation "it is expected that the anti-Taft electors on the Republican ticket will retire and be replaced by Taft supporters." Correctly taking the position that this is "proof of a gradual yielding of a tangled political situation to the spirit of fairness and common sense," The Tribune observes:

"The issue in Pennsylvania has been one not so much of law as of ordinary morals. For that resan, probably, the pressure of public opinion has been all the more uniter and emphatic, and the Roosevelt electors have been brought the more readily to see that they would be outraging public sentiment by trying to run as agents of one party while intending to betray their trust for the benefit of the Presidential candidate of another party. No man of honor would wish to be put in the position of seeking office under false pretences and misusing the power intrusted to him. If there are to be both Taft and Roosevelt electors in the field in any state, each set ought to stand under its own colors, and now that the idea of a dual ticket has been abandoned honest men of all parties in Pennsylvania see that the only proper place for a Roosevelt elector is on a recognized Roosevelt ballot."

The Tribune is right. No party should be guilty of the moral turpitude that would be evident in one party's stealing the epuipment of another If we are to have the square deal let us have it on the square.

FOUR-ANGLED CAMPAIGN

Political affairs will come to a crisis during the week that begins tomorrow. The State convention of the Bull Moose party will assemble at Greensboro next Tuesday and the Republican State convention will meet in Charlotte next Wednesday. Those days are big with fate for the two convention cities and they are sawing on the hurdy-gurdy and beating the tomtoms over the amount of limelight that will illuminate the skies that hover over those political meccas. Charlotte and Greensboro are pitted against each other and their interest in the two impending events is concerned in which will be the center of the more spectacular and hilarious stunt. Speaking of these portentious and ominous events, the Greensboro Record gives this forecast:

"There will be something doing in this State next week. Charlotte will be the scene of the performance. The Duke of Richmond will be there backed by those who insist that they are still Republicans and yet refuse to support the Republican nominee. Mr. J. Motley Morehead, the State chairman, will be there backed by a Taft committee who have served notice that none but Taftites shall sit in the convention. The duke favors Roosevelt electors. The State chairman insists that none save Taftites shall go on the Republican ticket. It looks at this time and this distance as if there will be either a row or two conventions. Judging from the hot literature issuing from the two camps it will be impossible to reach a basis for a compromise. However, there is no telling what a North Carolina Republican convention may do. They have fused and compromised in the past. They know how the thing is done. It is possible that they may get together, but there is no indication pointing to a compromise at present. Mr. Butler will be there in Washington costume equipped with his old-time weapons. Col Loge Harris will be there eager and ready for the fray. Dr. Mott, the game old leader from Statesville and a Virginian, will be in the front pew District Attorney Holton will be on the firing line and Charley Reynolds never fails to be in at the start. In fact, all of the old leaders and scrappers will be there and if an interesting stunt is not pulled off the whole State will be disappointed.

"But that is not all of the programme for next week. Col. Jim Williamson, of the county of Alamance, will call to order his convention of Bull Moosers here on Tuesday of next week. So that Greensboro will share with Charlotte the pleasure of witnessing some of the interesting things on the political programme. What these conventions will do no mortal man may venture to predict, but it will be interesting to 'stop, look and listen.' From a Republican standpoint and perhaps from all viewpoints, the atmosphere will be clarified and the Democrats will know whether there is anything in front of them."

The Record has the cart before the horse, so far in the order of the Bull Moose and Big Elephant performances are to occur. Colonel Williamson and the Bull Moosers will first do business at Greensboro, the day before Colonel Morehead will gather the last of the Mohicians about him at Charlotte. It is presumed that the Roosevelt men will talk over the situation at Greensboro and decide whether tney shall go right on down to Charlotte the next day to claim representation for the Bull Moose men in the regular Republican convention. Colonel Morehead and his State committee already have notified all supporters of Roosevelt that the Charlotte convention is a strictly Taft affair, and that the opposition need not apply. In spite of that, if the Roosevelt men will go to Charlotte and insist that a Bull Mooser is as good as a Taft Republican and entitled to sit in the convention, thre will be something doing. The possibilities in such a situation are both fusion and confusion, mostly both.

STARTLING INDUSTRIAL RUMOR

The Manufacturers' Record of August 29th, contains a brief editorial that is nothing less than a startling industrial proposition if it should be true in any particular. It is altogether probable that there is some truth in it, for the situation is such as to make it quite likely that the matter is being seriously considered in view of the potent reason why it is admittedly plausible. Says our valued Baltimore contemporary:

"With the near approach of the completion of the Panama Canal and the great development of water-powers under way in the South there come rumors that some of the big English cotton manufacturing concerns who now take Southern cotton and turn it into the finished product for export for the Orient are considering the feasibility of building mills in the South and manufacturing on the spot the goods suitable for their oriental trade. The enormous investments that are to be made in the development of water powers in Alabama by English capital, as outlined last week in the Manufacturers' Record, will unquestonably tend to attract to the South the attention of other English financial and manufacturing interests, and doubtless result in other investments in this section by Englishmen equally as far-reaching in importance as that of the Alabama Inter-State Power Co., with its $55,000,000 of capitalization. The dawn of the day of broad Southern development is here."

As startling as is such a possibility, it is needeless to say that there is every reason why manufacturers in England and everywhere else should recognize the distinct advantages of the South for manufacturing lines of goods for the trade that is to be easiest reached through the Panama Canal. Since the South is closest to the canal and the trade, it is quite logical that the mills to supply the oriental trade should be where the cotton is grown. All the conditions are met to make the rumor plausible.

It is a good idea to say nothing when your haven't got anything to say.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Our admiration for Mr. Wilson is greater since than before the convention, and we do not claim to be a Democrat either. Our sympathies began to go his way when we thought some of his enemies were attempting to give him a sorry sort of a deal.—Durham Herald (Ind.)

Miss Maud R. Ingersoll, daughter of the late Robert G. Ingersoll, is one of the delegates to the New York Bull Moose convention which meets in Syracuse September 9rd. One of the most notable public appearances of her father was when he put Blaine's name in nomination for President on the Republican ticket. It would be rather singular to see the daughter of an agnostic standing with the elect at Armageddon.—Savannah News.

Why does the Colonel rage? The newspapers report him pacing up and down the piazza at Sagamore Hill in a towering passion, and with clinched fists and in a voice indicating replies and explanations in answer to the Archbold-Penrose charges. To the perhaps not wholly disinterested, but certainly amused, beholder it is plain that the Archbold-Penrose charges will do Mr. Roosevelt no harm. Not, as he puts it, because there are no weak links in his armor, but because when the whizzing javelin of accusation reaches the spot where he was, he is no longer there. In the knack of stepping aside, in the art of being always somewhere else, the Colonel is incomparable.—New York Times (Ind.)

Col. Roosevelt has only himself to thank for his failure to gain immediate hearing before the Clapp Committee, and the country will be disappointed that the opportunity for his rigorous cross-examination when under oath will be thus delayed probably until late in September. There are not lacking indication that the Colonel's preference for denials at long range is alone responsible for the delay. Senator Penrose made his first statement in the open Senate last Wednesday; his utterances were carried by wire to the Colonel at Wilkesbarre, to be followed instantly by one of those long distance denials, accompanied by some letters written in 1904, but which hapuened by curious coincidence to be in the Colonel's inside pocket.—Philadelphia Ledger (Ind.)

Fully important as the action of New Orleans in adopting the commission form of government is the true, underlying cause of the vote of 23,000 in the affirmative and only 1,119 against the innovation: The mighty political ring which for decades has dominated the city has at last been obliged to bow to public sentiment and to yield to the spirit of modern progress. Not that this ring has surrendered unconditionally, for it still will endeavor to elect "organization" mayor and commissioners, it has suffered a most bitter blow. Moreover, this victory of the people may be traced directly to the recent Baltimore convention, in which the people also swept all before them. For, impressed by the demonstration of the sentiment of the time, Col. Robert L. Ewing, the real "boss" of all the other New Orleans "bosses," returned to his city and gave the order that the "organization" should not oppose the people in this fight, but should float with the sweeping tide. The victory for the people has come just in time. The income of the city until 1824 actually has been spent and interest is paid by notes, to meet which other notes are issued, till the accumulation of debt is reminiscent of the blacksmith who charged one cent for the first nail, twice that for the second, double that for the third, and so on.—Baltimore Evening Sun.

JUST PLAIN TRUTH

(Laurinburg Exchange).

This paper has taken no sides editorially in the Senatorial fight now on in this State. Naturally we have our personal preference, just as most others have. We are not now going to undertake to wage anybody's fight for them or espouse the cause of either of the three aspirants. We give the mass of the people credit for wanting to know the truth regardless of personal preference. With this idea in mind we are going to state what appears to us to be the exact truth about a matter concerning which there has been considerable confusing talk.

The record of Senator Simmons is attacked on the ground that eleven times he has voted with the Republican majority and his Democracy is brought into serious question by his opponents on that account. Senate Document No. 275, 62d Congress, 2nd session, which is a public document issued by Congress, gives a record of every yea and nay vote in the Senate on the Reciprocity and tariff bills during the Sixty-second Congress and a tabulated statement of the votes of the Democratic Senators. We must accept this record as true. What is stated therein must be accurate. From this we learn that of the thirty-eight other Democratic Senators voting at all, thirty-two of them voted with the Republican majority a greater number of times than did Senator Simmons. Senator Bacon, of Georgia, whose Democracy has been endorsed for the fourth consecutive time by his party in his nomination for Senator, voted with the Republican majority 28 times and against them 17 times; Senator Culberson, known leader of the Progressive wing of the party whose progressiveness cannot be questioned, voted with the Republican majority 17 times and against them 9 times; Senator Gore, who stumped the nation over for Governor Wilson and a recognized Progressive, voted with the Republican majority 42 times and against them 13 times; Senator Kern voted with them 26 times and against them 20 times; Senator John Sharp Williams voted with them 24 times and against them 11 times; our own Senator Overman, voted with them 24 times and against them 20 times—and so the record runs on. Compare this with the record of Simmons who voted with them 11 times and against them 32 times. How fair-minded, truth-loving men are expected to excuse the thirty-two out of the thirty-eight Democratic Senators and condemn Simmons on this account is past finding out.

VOTE TO BUY INCINERATOR

First Step Taken by City Council Toward Compliance With Mandate of County Board of Health—Sewerage.

At a special meeting at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon of the City Council the first formal step was taken toward compliance with the mandate of the County Board of Health with regard to disposal of carrion and refuse, when a resolution was adopted providing for the purchase of an incinerator for the destruction of carrion and garbage to cost not exceeding $34,000 upon condition that the County Commissioners agree to pay one-fifth of the cost of installation and maintenance of the plant. The County Commissioners will pass upon the question at their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. The resolution is to come up before Council for a second reading before the contract may be let.

The sewerage question bobbed up again yesterday. The trouble is all over the wording of the bond the sewerage company proposes to issue to cover the amount of the mortgage it will hold on the plant. City Attorney McClammy will not approve the bond as it has been drawn without an amendment which, in effect, does away with any possibility that the city would be required to pay any tax that might be levied by any State or the Nation against the bonds. The bondholders of the Wilmington Sewerage Company want the bond as orginially drawn and which is said to be in conformity with practically all bonds issued and which, in the opinion of Iredell Meares, Esq., counsel for the bondholders of the sewerage company, is strictly in accordance with the provisions of the contract entered into between the city and sewerage company. Mr. Meares gave it as his opinion that the city would be just as liable for the tax with the city attorney's amendment as it would without it. The city atorney asked why it was then that the company was so insistent upon having the bond as orginally drawn, a fact within itself that should cause members of Council to hesitate before accepting the bond, he said.

The sewerage mater was sandwiched between the discussion on the incinerator proposition and members of Council did not give Mr. Meares a very careful hearing. Probably feeling that it was a waste of time to discuss the point further, Mr. Meares finally took hurried leave, stating that he was through with the entire mater and would telegraph the bondholders in Philadelphia that the city would not recede from its position. Later in the meeeting and after Mr Meares had left the question came up again and Mr. McClammy stated that he had not had time to go into the matter as fully as he would like and members of Council asked him to look further into the question and that if he changed his opinion to notify Mr. Meares and members of Council Members of Council are anxious to have the matter settled, but are not willing to go against the advice of the city attorney.

It now appears that the sewerage plant will not be turned over to the city October 1st, the time agreed upon, unless the form of bond is passed upon finally by both sides within the next few days.

It was the incinerator proposition that claimed the major portion of the time of the session. The reason for the special meeting, it was explained by Councilman B. C. Moore, was that Councilman Perdew was going away last night on a two weeks' vacation and it was desired to get the incinerator proposition in more tangible shape before he left. At the request of members of Council Marsden Bellamy, Esq., county attorney, and County Commissioner John Van B. Metts, met with Council. Councilman B. C. Moore said that other members were unable to be present. He said that he had talked to Chairman McEachern and Commissioner Divine and that he gathered from their remarks that neither would object to the purchase of a $34,000 plant instead of a $30,000 plant, as tentatively agreed upon at a joint conference of the two boards. Mr. Divine is out of the city, but will be back in time to attend the meeting of the Commissioners Tuesday when the matter comes up before that body.

City Attorney Herbert McClammy said that he wanted some definite proposition in writing from the county before he would be prepared to advise the Council as to the legal aspects. County Attorney Marsden Bellamy said that he was at the last meeting of the Board of Commissioners, when Mr. Divine made report on the proposition, and that the impression seemed to be that the incinerator would cost $30,000. However, he did not doubt that the Commissioners would agree to the purchase of a $34,000 plant instead. Mr. McClammy then stated that it would be well for the Council to make a preposition and send it over to the Commissioners, which was afterwards done.

When the question of a site for the incinerator came up Commissioner Metts said that this phase was not discussed by his board, but he supposed that they would agree to pay one-fifth of the cost of the land as well as one-fifth of the cost and maintenance of the plant. However, his was a matter for his board to pass upon. Councilman B. C. Moore said that a portion of the old tobacco warehouse property, now owned by the city, was being considered as a suitable site. County Attorney Bellamy suggested that if the city and county did not want to own any real estate jointly that they could agree upon a reasonable rental for the property and the amount could be paid to the city by the county. Mr. Bellamy said further that it was his idea that the city make the contract and have the incinerator installed and that the county, by contract entered into with the city, would agree to pay its proportion of the cost, whatever is decided upon.

Councilman B. C. Moore then offered the resolution that was introduced at the regular meeting Wednesday providing for the sale of the fire station property at the southwest corner of Fourth and Princess streets and that the proceeds be devoted toward the purchase of an incinerator; that a portion of the old tobacco warehouse property be secured as a site, and that the contract for the incinerator be awarded to the Decaire Company, of Minneapolis, Minn., for $34,000.

Councilmen P. Q. Moore and Tiencken suggested that only the first provision of the resolution be adopted, as the matter of the purchase of the incinerator and selection of site could be decided upon after the fire station property had been sold and funds received for the plant. Councilman B. C. Moore urged immediate action on all three provisions, saying that time would be saved by getting the matter in tangible form. He said that the resolution would have been adopted on its second reading anyway before the contract could be considered awarded.

Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, addressed the Council on the importance of immediate action. He said that soil pollution is more dangerous in the Winter than it could possibly be in the Summer and that he understood from Dr. E. J. Wood, a member of the County Board of Health, that the time limit for burying carrion and refuse in the county was fixed with that idea in view. Four months, he said, will be required to install the plant, therefore, making it about the 1st of February before it could be put in use, even if the contract is let by September 1st. By that time the Winter will be well advanced and it is necessary that the work get underway as early as possible. His hope is to have this city entirely free from typhoid fever next Summer.

Following further discussion the following resolution was submitted as passed by a vote of three to two:

"Resolved, That the City of Wilmington purchase an incinerator at a cost not exceeding $34,000, provided the County of New Hanover pay one-fifth of the cost of same and provided said county pay one-fifth of the cost of operating and maintaining the same, together with one-fifth of the cost of securing a site for same.

"The contract embracing the terms of this resolution including the selection of a site, provided the county concurs in same, to be reduced to writing and hereafter to be approved by the City Council and Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county."

Mayor Smith and Councilmen Perdew and B. C. Moore voted for the resolution, while Councilmen Tiencken and P. Q. Moore voted in the negative. Mayor Smith said that he was opposed to the purchase of a plant of more than 25-ton capacity, but would vote for the 40-ton capacity plant in order to have the right to reopen the matter at a subsequent meeting, in the even he sees fit to do so. Councilman P. Q. Moore said that he was opposed to the purchase of an incinerator for the reason that he did not think a plant of the kind necessary, but that if he voted for any it would certainly be for the larger plant. Councilman Tiencken said after the meeting that he did not desire his vote on the resolution to be taken as meaning that he will vote against the proposition when it comes up for second reading, but that he was not prepared yesterday to cast his vote in the affirmative on account of the fact that no definite plan for financing the proposition had been made. It is not improbable that he will vote for the incinerator on second and final reading of the resolution.

Mayor Smith asked the city attorney as to the power of the County Board of Health to make and enforce a regulation requiring that no carrion or refuse shall be buried in the county. Mr. McClammy read the law, which provides that the offender shall be subject to a fine of not more than $50 or imprisonment of not more than 30 days for each and every violation. The right to appeal comes only after the offender is indicted. It is then up to the courts, and the courts of North Carolina have been very liberal in construing laws affecting the public health. An injunction could, of course, be sought on the ground that the regulation was unreasonable. However, it is doubtful if this would avail much, as such regulations have been required of many towns and cities of the country.

An incinerator is planned for the destruction of the city's carrion and garbage and the county's carrion. The refuse from the city will be disposed of through a retaining basin constructed on the edge of the river in the southern part of the city.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Little of Interest Came Up at Yesterday's Session

Though the docket in the Recorder's court yesterday morning contained a number of cases, none was of any great interest and the session as a whole was rather dull. Annie Ray, colored, was found guilty of vagrancy and sentenced to the county farm for 30 days. A nol pros with leave was taken in a case charging her with disorderly conduct. Henry Steele, colored, was found guilty of vagrancy, and judgment was suspended on condition that he leave the city. Chas. Turner, colored, was likewise convicted on a vagrancy charge, but on account of poor health judgment was suspended on payment of the costs. Alex. McRae, colored, was sentenced to 30 days on the county roads for vagrancy, but judgment was suspended provided he leave the county at once and not return for 30 days.

Hattie Austin, colored, was convicted of the larceny of a hat and dress from Carrie Jennings, colored, and was sentenced to three months on the county farm. She gave notice of an appeal and went to jail in default of $100 bond. Mr. Thos. Strange, Jr., a recent law graduate who has not yet been sworn in as a member of the bar, assisted the prosecuting attorney in this case, making an excellent impression on all who heard him in his maiden speech.

A want of probable cause was found in a case charging Lutha Hill, colored, with the larceny of a watch from Mr. J. W. Blake. Josephine Bailey and Major Williams, colored, were charged with the larceny of a watch from Mr. M. H. Howey. The cases were not prossed for lack of evidence. One lone drunk contributed $5 and costs.

DUPLIN SUPERIOR COURT.

Judge Carter Presiding Over Civil Term at Kenansville, N. C.

A number of Wilmington attorneys who have been attending Duplin Superior Court at Kenansville the past week have returned to the city. Judge Carter is presiding over the term which is for the trial of civil causes only. Only two important cases were disposed of during the past week, one of these on Monday having been J. B. Winders, of Warsaw, against the heirs of the late John G. Kenan, involving large timber holdings east of Wallace, valued at about $10,000. At the conclusion of the trial the judge non-suited the plaintiff.

The other case was that of Boney vs Boney, involving the title to the old Boney estate at Wallace, the estimated value being all the way from $15,000 to $50,000. The plaintiffs sought to set aside a deed to Paisley Boney from his mother and the case was hard fought, the validity of the deed at length having been upheld for the defendant, who was represented by J. Q. Carr, Esq., of Wilmington; Stevens, Beasley & Weeks, of Warsaw, and A. D. Ward, of Newbern. The plaintiffs were represented by ex-judge E. K. Bryan, Robert Ruark, Esq., of Wilmington, and H. D. Williams, Esq., of Kenansville. Court will continue through next week.

TO BE IN EFFECT TOMORROW

New Non-Sunday Mail Delivery Law Becomes Operative Immediately —Delivery to Newspapers and Hotels Only.

The non-Sunday mail delivery law, passed by Congress and signed by President Taft last week, becomes operative at once, and all mail arriving here between this midnight and midnight tomorrow night, with the exception of mail for the local newspapers, transient guests at the hotels and special delivery letters or parcels, will remain in the postoffice until Monday morning. The law does not affect outgoing letters and all such mailed here tomorrow will be dispatched immediately, as heretofore.

Postmaster Thos. E. Wallace stated yesterday that the concensus of opinion throughout the postal service was that the law becomes effective at once. He stated that as it had been construed by the Postmaster General the law allowed the delivery of mail arriving on Sundays to newspapers, and transient guests at the hotels. The special delivery mail is also not affected and will be delivered as soon as received. No other mail will be distributed on Sunday, not even to the extent of placing it in the lock boxes. Not more than two or three clerks will be on duty at the postoffice on Sundays hereafter, one to look after dispatching the letters received and one or two to handle the mail coming intended for newspapers, hotels and special delivey mail.

However, all mail accumulating over Sunday will be "worked" and distributed to the boxes, the general delivery department and the city carriers very early Monday morning, so that when the office opens there will be no delay on account of congestion. This means that practically the entire staff of postoffice employes will have to go to work Monday morning by 3 o'clock or earlier.

Discussing the law yesterday, Postmaster Wallace said that he desired to cause no more inconvenience to the public than is absolutely necessary under the new law, and that he would construe it as liberally as he could possibly do so and yet remain within its definitions. He seemed to be of the opinion that it is regrettable that the clause was included in the appropriation bill and passed, and that it would be of very little benefit to the postal employes here, while at the same time working considerable hardship and inconvenience to the public. However, it has been passed, and has become a law, he said, and it would be necessary to carry it out here as well as at all other first and second class postoffices in the United States.

WILSON CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Murchison National and People's Savings Banks Receive Donations

In response to a letter from Mr. Wm. G. McAdoo, acting chairman of the Democratic National Committee, the Murchison National Bank has wired him that subscriptions to the National Campaign Fund would be received and remitted to the proper committee. The People's Savings Bank has received a similar request and has wired the acting chairman of its purpose to likewise comply.

The banks have very generously undertaken this service without cost and it is hoped that there will be a general response to the invitation to subscribe freely. The need is pressing and in order that the people's candidate may be properly financed in the conduct of his campaign every section of the country will have to do its full share.

REFRIGERATOR CANDY CASE

Something Decidedly New and Novel At Bunting's Drug Store

Something decidedly new and novel in the form of a refrigerator candy case has just been installed at the up-to-date drug store of the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company, on North Front street. By means of this case the stock of fine candies carried by this store is kept strictly fresh and pure all the time, the application of the refrigerator idea to the care and keeping of candies being new and confined only to the largest establishments in the larger cities. The case contains an ice compartment which holds 25 pounds, a supply for three days, and the temperature under which the sweets are kept is just right and conducive to the most sanitary and perfect maintenance of the product. The J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., is agent for the celebrated Norris candies in this territory and fresh shipments from the factory are received twice and three times a week, kept under the most perfect conditions and sold in attractive packages.

Purchased Fine Berkshires

Mr. George C. Jackson has returned from Raleigh, where he attended the annual sale of Berkshires held under the auspices of the North Carolina Berkshire Breeders' Association on Wednesday. The sale was held during the State Farmers' Convention and was largely attended. Thos in this section interested in the swine industry will be pleased to know that Mr. Jackson purchased two fine Berkshires for breeding purposes, his hope being that the improved grade of stock will eventually take the place of the scrub hogs. The Berkshires were brought in Thursday night from Raleigh and taken to Mr. Jackson's home at Winter Park.

Police Suspect Henry Cottle of Swindling Mission Pharmacy.

Suspected of being the man who swindled the Mission Pharmacy out of $4 and a pound box of candy Thursday night, Henry Cottle, a young white man, was arrested yesterday afternoon at Front and Princess streets by officer H. G. Bullard on a charge of vagrancy. He is being held at the police station under this charge, while the officers are working in an effort to fix the other matter upon him.

As stated in Tuesday's Star a telephone call was received at the Mission Pharmacy Thursday night about 8 o'clock. It was stated that Mr. C. H. Spooner was at the phone and it was asked that a box of Candy and $4 in change be sent to 121 Market street, the speaker explaining that he had nothing less that a $5 bill and that he was in a hurry to keep an engagement. The candy and change was sent by a colored boy. He delivered it to a dark complected young man, who said that he would have to go inside the house to get the $5 bill. He disappeared through the door, and was not seen again.

Mr. L. B. Sasser, proprietor of the Mission Pharmacy reported the matter to the police and they went to work on the case. They learned that a call was made from the Bonitz Hotel on Market street about the same time the call was received at the Mission Pharmacy. Other evidence led them to believe that Cottle was the man who sent the call. He was accordingly arrested on the vagrancy charge. The negro boy who delivered the candy and money yesterday afternoon indentified Cottle as the man to whom he gave the money and candy. It is expected that an additional charge will be made against Cottle today.

MRS. T. A. LAWTHER DEAD

Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon at Wrightsville Beach—Funeral

Mrs. T. A. Lawther, widow of the late Capt. T. A. Lawther, died yesterday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock at the Seaside Inn, Wrightsville Beach, where she had been spending a few weeks with her daughter, Miss Mary Lawther. While Mrs. Lawther had been in poor health for the past four years, she did not become ill until Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and even then it was not thought that her condition was serious. However, she continued to grow worse and yesterday morning all her children went down from the city. They were with her when the end came.

The deceased lady was 62 years of age and is survived by two daughters, Mrs. I. M. Craig and Miss Mary Lawther, and one son, Mr. T. A. Lawther, all of this city. The bereaved ones will be remembered with tender and sincere sympathy in their hour of sorrow.

Mrs. Lawther was born in Scotland and came to this country while a child. She made her home in Columbia a number of years and later removed to Wilmington. She had lived in this city about 35 years. She was a consistent and devoted member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and always took deep interest in all phases of the church work. She will be sorely missed, both in her home and in the wide circle of her friends and acquaintances.

The remains were brought to the city and prepared for burial yesterday afternoon. They were then removed to the family home, No. 114 North Seventh street. The funeral will be held there this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Rev. H. W. Koelling, assistant pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, will conduct the services. Interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

SOCIAL LIFE EVENTS IN CLARKTON, N. C.

Clarkton, N. C., August 30.—First in the series of social events to be given in honor of Miss Laura Dell Clark, whose approaching marriage to Mr. R. B. Craven was recently announced, was the very unique "At Home" given by Misses Annie Lou, Emma and Eva Kelly at their hospitable home on North College street, Thursday evening from 4:30 to 6:30.

The guests were invited to bring sewing bags, to assist in making the trousseau of the prospective bride. A large wicker basket of dainty linen, laces, ribbon etc, was ready on porch when the guests arrived, and soon all were occupied while merry laughter and swift tongues kept pace with flying fingers, and in a marvelously short time the basket was almost empty. The next interesting feature was a novel "animal contest." Squares of cloth were passed around and each one was asked by means of needle and thread to outline an animal represented thereon. Much merriment ensued as the embryo artists tackled their work. At the close of the contest the guests were invited in to the dinning room which was attractively decorated, the color scheme being green and white. A delicious salad and ice course was served by Misses Eva Kelly, Margaret Johnston and Kittie Clark. Upon leaving the dining room they all were next invited to the "art gallery" where the pictures were displayed. Anyone would have smiled at the motley menagerie. The campaign then opened each one was given the privilege of voting. After resorting to much "political bravery," Miss Bessie Russ was awarded first prize for drawing a life-like "frog on a lily," and Miss Rosa Lee Clark, consolation prize for an unlikelike hog. The lucky recipient gracefully presented the prizes to the future bride.

Those who enjoyed the Misses Kelly's hospitality were the guest of honor, Miss Laura Dell Clark, Misses Rosa Lee, Amanda, Neill and Kittie Clark, Kate M., Mary E. and Margaret Johnston, Bessie and Janie Russ Amelia Wooten and Mesdames: F. A. Harrington, Stegall and C. S. Clark.

DOCTORS GAVE HER UP

Mrs. Stuart Finally Saved By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Her Story Interesting.

Elmo, Mo.—"I think your Vegetable Compound is wonderful for it has helped me. I had four doctors and they said I had female troubles and a tumor and nothing but an operation would help me. I could not sit still long enough to eat, and could sleep hardly any I was in so much misery with pains in my side and back.

"A year ago last spring my doctor gave me up, and he was surprised to see me this spring and to see my condition. I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise wherever I go for I know I would not be here today or have our fine baby boy if I had not taken it." —Mrs. SARAH J. STUART, R.F.D. No. 2, Box 16, Elmo, Mo.

Labor unrest is no new thing in London. In 1768 Benjamin Franklin was living in Craven street. He was the most trustworthy of observers and has left the record of what he witnessed: Coal heavers pulling down the houses of coal dealers, sailors on strike unrigging all the outward-bound merchantmen and closing the port of London till their pay was raised; the very tailors marching down in their thousands to overawe Parliament.

Queen Victoria's collection of lace is said to have been worth about $400,000. The Princess of Wales owns $250,000 worth of lace, and the Ex-Empress Eugenie has a splendid collection. But that of Leo XIII surpasses them all, being valued at almost a million dollars.

Here's another organization out against Roosevelt. It's the International Congress of Ontologists, which has placed itself on record as demanding the abolition of loud and useless noises.—Providence Tribune.

Benjamin B. Odell has been testifying before a congressional committee. Oh, don't you remember Odell? Well, no matter.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

COTTON MARKET WAS QUIET

Opening Was Steady at a Decline of 2 to 8 Points and Close Was Barely Steady, Unchanged To 3 Lower

New York, Aug. 30.—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today, with the close barely steady, net unchanged to 3 lower.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 8 points, with all positions making new low ground, under a renewal of yesterday's late selling movement, encouraged by easy Liverpool cables, favorable weather in the South and private condition reports indicating much less than this normal deterioration during August.

Considerable demand developed on the early decline and the market soon steadied up as a result of covering of fresh buying inspired by unfavorable private crop advices from the Southwest. As prices rallied from the low point this demand became more active and at one time during the early afternoon prices were from 6 to 8 points net higher, or about 10 points up from the lowest.

At this level there was cotton for sale though some of the prominent spot houses, while there was also realizing by early buyers for a turn and the market eased up, closing 3 to 4 points from the lowest. The American markets will all be closed tomorrow and on Monday while Liverpool will remain open. Much of today's business was believed to be in the way of evening up for over the holidays, or the government crop report expected at noon next Tuesday. Private cables were received reporting prospects for a very large Egyptian crop and also claiming that the crop of China this year will probably exceed any previous records.

Receipts 18,356 bales, against 14,562 last week and 10,083 last year. At Galveston 17,369, against 16,660 last year; Houston 12,018, against 19,255 last year.

Spot closed quiet. Middling uplands, 11.25; middling gulf, 11.50; sales, 28 bales.

Futures closed barely steady.

SEC. HESTER'S STATEMENT

Shows World's Visible Supply of Cotton to be 2,118,189 Bales

New Orleans, Aug. 30.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton announced today shows an increase for the week just closed of 17,690, against a decrease of 9,225 last year.

The total visible is 2,118,189, against 2,100,499 last week and 1,600,238 last year.

Of this the total of American cotton is 1,307,499 last week, and 82?,238 last year, and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 776,000, against 793,000 last week, and 771,000 last year.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton as above there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,261,000, against 88?,000 last year; in Egypt 32,000, against 42,000 last year; in India 460,000, against 422,000 last year, and in the United States 365,000, against 256,000.

A washing machine manufacturer has just shipped 25 machines to Porto Rico. Judging from the newspaper pictures of the natives this will overstock the market.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Prices Have Shown Decided Weakness, Owing to Favorable Weather, Heavy Receipts and Hedge Selling by South.

New York, August 30.—Prices have shown decided weakness at times due to favorable weather, big Texas receipts, depression in Liverpool, the indifference of spinners and hedge selling by the South and finally large selling here by important interests.

14,000,000 bales is the estimated figure of the cotton crop and that this will mean an unduly large supply, considering the fact that a good deal of cotton must be carried over from a crop of 16,250,000 bales and also the further fact that spinners at home and abroad have during the present season bought heavily for a delivery during the coming season and in fact for some years ahead. Texas, it is argued, will raise the biggest crop in its history. Some are predicting 5,000,000 bales. With big people bearish in their views, speculation stagnant and Galveston and Houston receiving enormous quantities daily, the price has staggered under repeated blows and finally dropped below the 1 cent level which has for some time been the Rubicon which the market refused to cross. The price has shown weakness, due to what the advocates of lower prices believe to be simply the law of supply and demand. But there is another side of the case. For instance, the crop is two or three weeks late. In fact in some sections, it is said, to be three to four weeks late. That is only another way of saying that the weather in September must be practically ideal and that the frost date must be late or else the crop is going to turn out to be smaller than many are expecting it to be.

Supplies are plentiful and recent crops have been large. But the vital point, it is argued, is that September has got to be favorable or crop estimates circulated by bears have got to be modified. This is the judgment of some experienced people. Futhermore, the universality of the bearish sentiment in this country and abroad—in New York, New Orleans, Memphis and Liverpool, argues that the short interest is large and might be stampeded by a weather and crop scare. Latterly, spinners have been buying somewhat more freely. Some of the big spot houses have also bought as well as Liverpool, and Memphis people. Prices have rallied somewhat at times in the fear of the possibility of bullish developments over the Labor Day holidays and also a fear that possibly the next forthcoming government report may not be so bearish as some have assumed it. But on the whole it has been a dragging affair.

STOCK MARKET WAS STAGNANT

Effect of the Coming Triple Holiday Reflected in Record-Breaking Idleness of Important Transactions

New York, Aug. 30.—The stock market today reflected in its almost record-breaking idleness, the effect of the coming triple holiday, but the tone was steady, despite numerous developments, some of which were hardly calculated to inspire confidence.

Among these may be cited the finding of indictments by the State of Texas against Standard Oil Company interests and official indictment and arrest of the chief executive of a large New England textile mill on anti-labor conspiracy charges; reported frost in Canada's wheat belt and a further hardening of call loans to the highest rate in some months.

Leading stocks moved narrowly, when at all, but Canadian Pacific and L. & N., were heavy, the former on the spread of opposition to its stock issue and the latter presumably at disappointment of its shareholders over the $12,000,000 capital increase.

Bonds were irregular with some pressure in important issues. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,208,000. U. S. 2's advanced 1-2 per cent on call for the week. Total sales 148,300 shares, including C. O., 600; L. & N., 4,000; N. & W., 300; S. A. L., pfd., 100; Sloss Sheffield, 100; Southern Railway, 1,000.

DRY GOODS MARKET

New York, Aug. 30.—Gray goods were in steady demand but prices showed irregularity. Some mills declined business except at slightly higher prices than prevailed earlier in the week, while others inclined to shade prices a trifle. Coarse colored goods were in demand for quick shipment. The finer grades of ginghams moved in a very satisfactory way.

THE FINANCIAL MARKET.

New York, Aug. 30.—Money on call, firmer, at 2½ to 3½ per cent.; ruling rate, 3¼. Time loans, strong; 60 days, 3¾@4; six months, 4¼@5. Prime mercantile paper, 5½; Sterling exchange, easy, at 4.8125 for sixty-day bills, 4.8710 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.83½.

COLLAPSE OF REBELLION

Is Charged With Conditions In Mexico By Senor De La Cueva

Washington, Aug. 30.—Present unsettled conditions in Northern Mexico and the danger to foreigners in that region, were today charged to the "collapse" of the Orozco rebellion, and the breaking up of the rebel army into small predatory bands, in a statement issued by Senor De La Cueva, charge of the Mexican embassy.

Senor Cueva declared that the Mexican Federal troops had practically disbanded the Orozco force and that the scattered remnants were seeking to force intervention by the United States through ravaging the border country.

"It is certain," he said, "that the status of the foreign element in that part of Mexico where the scattered elements of Orozco's army are now wandering, is much more uncertain and precarious than it was when the Federal forces were more combined nominally under one leader. The collapse of the organized rebellion and the dispersing of its various elements into predatory bands that are ravaging the country along the border, without much regard for the actual location of international boundary lines, and recognizing no property rights of Americans or other foreigners in the Mexican border States, has followed as a result of government successes. This condition was predicted after the first really serious defeat of the Orozco forces in the State of Chihuahua nearly two months ago.

'One should remember, moreover, that foreign interests in Sonora are greater than in Chihuahua.

"The Mexican military leaders are trying their best to run down and destroy the various marauding bands. While success is attending their efforts, it is patent that the complete restoration of law and order in the States of Sonora and Chihuahua will consume weeks and perhaps months.

'Considering the rugged character of the country and the almost total absence of railroads, and even wagon roads, available for artillery use, great progress already has been made by the Mexican Federal troops.

"For this reason, the Mexican administration thinks that it may fairly claim sympathetic consideration and the exercise of patience on the part of those few public men in the United States who have been clamoring for intervention."

Gentlemen's Agreements Between Railroad and Steamers to be Probed.

Tampa, Fla., August 30.—Congressional investigation of so-called "gentlemen's agreements," under which railroads and steamship lines in the Southeastern traffic zone are said to be operating, will be asked by the board of trade of this city. The board of governors of that body today asked the cooreration of commercial bodies in all the port cities on the Gulf and Atlantic coast and plans to push the mater at the December session of Congress.

It is charged that under the operation of the alleged agreements traffic is forced away from nearby ports over a long rail haul at hight rates and delivered to the terfinals friendly to tse railroad intrests.

The purchase of a freight line operating between Tampa and Philadelphia by a competing steamship line and the recent organization of a new company to take over the old Morgan lines between Tampa and New Orleans, are given as alleged violations of the anti-trust act.

It is charged that the trade between Tampa and other ports and lines west of the Mississippi river is being closed to all but the coterie of lines forming the alleged combination.

FOWARDS INSTRUCTION.

Hitchcock Advises 2,500 Postmasters In Regard to New Sunday Law.

Washington, August 30.—Postmaster-General Hitchcock forwarded today to 2,500 postmasters in city postoffices of the first and second class, detailed instructions regarding the handling of Sunday mail under the law recently enacted by Congress providing that postoffices be closed on Sunday.

Instructions to these postmasters are calculated to reach postoffices affected by the law in time to be executed next Sunday. They will enable newspaper offices, news dealers and hotels to obtain their Sunday mail, which is to be regarded as "transit mail."

The plan of the department as provided in the instructions, also will make it possible for persons expecting mail of exceptional importance to obtain it in emergency cases on Sunday by making application to the postmaster. Adequate provision will be made for the prompt delivery of all mail matter sent under special delivery stamps.

Atlanta, August 30.—Representatives of the Progressive party from all the Congressional districts in the State met here today and named the Roosevelt Presidential electors. The session was largely attended and was devoid of the factional clashes which have marked previous meetings of the Progressives. Immediately after adjournment the electoral ticket was filed with the Secretary of State.

Columbus, Ga., August 30.—As a result of the grand jury investigation of the lynching of T. Z. McIlhenny, a negro boy here a few weeks ago, R. E. L. Land, A. B. Land and Lee Lynn were indicted for the murder today. The Lands were relatives of the boy for whose murder McIlhenny was convicted just before he was lynched. No arrests have yet been made.

FROM THE UPPER CAPE FEAR.

Politics and Crops in Cumberland—The Neely Compress.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Aug. 31.—The recent rains have brightened the hopes of the farmers of the Upper Cape Fear, but there is no change in the prevailing impression that there is little prospect of more than an average yield of cotton and corn. In point of fact a considerable portion of the cotton is from two to three weeks late, and this adds to the uncertainty of the final outcome.

The future of the cotton market is a puzzling problem alike to manufacturers, producers and speculators. The heavy decline in price during the past few weeks has been a surprise and a disappointment, and there are many conservative business men who consider the "fleecy" a safe purchase at 11 cents. Theer are others who predict an advance to 12 cents within the next ninety days.

The bitterness engendered by the struggle for the State Senatorship between McNeill and Nimocks has passed from the red-hot to the white-heat stage. The ante-election climax was probably reached Thursday, when Nimocks appeared before the grand jury of Superior Court, now in session, and secured the indictment of McNeill in two cases on the charge of criminal libel. In the Observer of Thursday large space was occupied with cards from the rival candidates and others As the matter is now in the courts, it is not probable that there will be any demonstration by " gunmen," or any demand for "pistols and coffee." So far as the election is concerned, the fate of the contestants will be decided in the primary to be held next Wednesday. As both sides are "claiming everything," is is impossible to give an intelligent forecast of the result.

The numerous readers of the Sunday Star in Fayetteville are hoping that under the recent ruling of the Postmaster General, there will be no difficulty in the matter of Sunday delivery.

There are many stockholders of the Neely Compress and Cotton Company throughout the territory in which the Morning Star circulates largely, and they are specially numerous in Wilmington where many of the most careful and conservative business men like Col. Mulberry Sellers, saw "millions in it," and cheerfully responded to the call of the seductive soliciting agents. It has been estimated that in Wilmington alone at least $25,000 is invested in the "Neely."

As "hope deferred maketh the heart sick," a large majority of these stockholders have charged up the amount of their investments to "Profit and Loss." But "not dead, but sleepeth" appears to have been the condition of the "Neely," and it now seems to have awakened from its slumber and acquired a new lease on life. At last there is a "crumb of comfort" in the appended extracts from two letters received by one of the stockholders recently from the headquarters of the Neely corporation, in Richmond.

From a letter dated July 20, 1912: "Both your newspaper clippings have been received. The revolt against the American bale has been going on for a long time; but we will give them the right sort of bale before long. Our latest compress is a triumph of mechanical genius. In economy and efficiency nothing comes within a thousand years of it. The United States Agricultural Department will soon issue a bulletin on the baling of cotton. We are in cloes touch with the Commissioner compiling it, and references will be made to the "Neely," with some cuts.

Frome letter dated August 20th, 1912: "The tests of the new model have been in every way most satisfactory. We are now building the first machine of this model, and the cost of it is just one-third less than that of the other machine. This new compress will not be placed at Union City, Ga., but will be set up in a ginnery belonging to the Southern Cotton Oil Co., at Chester, S. C. This new compress can be made at so low a price, and is so efficient, that we feel sure it will sweep the market, just as it becomes known.

CAN CONTROL SITUATION.

erland had another object in dispatch-Command In Nicaragua.

Washington, August 30.—Rear Admiral W. H. H. Southerland has reiterated to the Navy Department his original statement, made soon after his landing at Corinto, that he can control the situation in Nicaragua with the forces now ashore in that country and the marines that are en route. His message was dated at Corinto four P. M., yesterday and stated that Commander Terhune, of the gunboat Annapolis, already has succeeded in opening up the railway for 15 miles from the coast. He has with him a force of 500 bluejackets and marines and after reparing the tracks and bridges, he proceeded last night as far as the important town of Chinandaga, regarded as a rebel outpost. Commander Terhune has two locomotives and 25 cars with him, with all the facilties and material for repairing the tracks and bridges as he goes along.

It appears that in addition to keeping open the cable station at San. Juan Del Sur, which is the only outlet to the official dispatches from Manague to Corinto, Admiral Southerland had another object in dispatching the twon. With the Denver's landing the Denver to that cable point. He was informed that a band of revolutionists had appeared in the vicinity and was threatening to capture the twon. With the Denver's guns cleared for action that will now be impossible.

Philadelphia, August 30.—In a one-sided six-round bout before the Olympia Athletic Club here tonight, Packey McFarland, the Chicago lightweight, received the popular decision over Joe Hirst, of Philadelphia. In all but one round McFarland landed at will while the few blows of his opponent lacked force.

Escanaba, Mich., August 30.—Reports received here today from Senator Isaac Stephenson's fishing camp in the woods, states that the Senator is suffering from a slight cold and that his condition is not as grave as was at first reported.

A pigmy tribe has been discovered in Dutch New Guinea living at an altitude of more than 2,000 feet above sea level.

INSURANCE MERGER

Commissioners of Three States Pass On Proposed Consolidation

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greensboro, N. C. Aug. 30.—State Insurance Commissioner F. H. McMaster, of South Carolina; Joseph Button, of Virginia, and James R. Young, of North Carolina, met here today on invitations of the companies to examine and consider in detail the proposed consolidation of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, Security Life and Annuity Company and the Greensboro Life Insurance Company. In a signed statement late this afternoon the commissioners, say:

"A thorough examination of the proposed plan of consolidation was made with a view to ascertain the effect upon the policyholders and stockholders of the companies. Every detail was examined and we are of the opinion that the consolidation of the companies along the lines contemplated will be to the advantage of the policyholders and stockholders of each of the companies and the consolidation is heartily approved as just and equitable and for the best interest of the policyholders and all others interested in the companies."

Commissioner Young further stated that the consolidation of the three companies would give the company a forty million dollar business and in the one item of home office or fixed charges, effect a saving of $60,000 a year.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 30.—State Commissioner of Insurance Young announces that he and Commissioners Burton, of Virginia, and McMaster, of South Carolina, examined and most heartily approve the proposed plan for the merger of the Jefferson Standard, the Greensboro Life, and the Security and Annuity Co., of Greensboro, into one big corporation with forty millions of business and a saving of $50,000 in annual expenses. It is understood that the consolidation will be made now with the least possible delay.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 30.—The following letter and telegraphic reply are self-explanatory:

Hon. J. M. Morehead, chairman,
Spray, N. C.

Dear Sir:—Seeing that the conflict of opinion between the supporters of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft is irreconcilable, and that a separate electoral ticket for each in North Carolina is inevitable, allow me to ask if you are disposed to agree with the supporters of Mr. Roosevelt on a single State ticket and single county tickets in opposition to the Democratic nominees for State and county offices?

Sincerely yours,
RICHMOND PEARSON.

Your letter of the 27th received; am heartily in accord with your suggestions as to State and county tickets, and congratulatee you upon inaugurating a programme that, if carried out, will avert an otherwise inevitable rupture of the party. Am writing.

ROBBED OF $5,000.

F. M. Laxton, of Charlotte, Robbed on Pullman.

Washington, Georgia, Aug. 30.—Local banks were notified today that F. M. Laxton, of Charlotte, N. C., had been robbed of $5,000 in cash and checks early this morning, while asleep in a Pullman car between Atlanta and Charlotte.

Mr. Laxton is vice-president of a company which is putting in a new electric plant here, and the money was in part payment by the city of Washington for that work.

Four thousand dollars of the money was in the shape of a cashier's check and the rest in currency.
